

Below you will find three worksheets. The first will be used to list items you currently own and are planning on using. The second is for listing items you will be purchasing. The third is for itemizing supplies you will be using for various projects.

If you own a computer and are familiar with spreadsheets, you may want to transfer the financial data into one of these to keep track of expenditures and totals. This will save you a lot of time and effort and give you an accurate snapshot of your budget.
